

5. GEORGE PHILLIPS, JR.² (George¹), son of George and Patience (Griffith) Phillips, born 10 mo. 5, 1706, removed with his parents to Richland when a child. He was a farmer and acquired in 1740 a plantation in Milford upon which he lived until about 1756, when we lose all trace of him. He probably died at about that date. He purchased of William Baldwin in 1751 a tract of 125 acres in Richland near the Meeting House, which he and his wife Alice conveyed to John Foulke 12 mo. 17, 1754. He married at Christ Church, Philadelphia, 7 mo. 3, 1727, Alice Fairman, who survived him many years, dying in Milford between the years 1806 and 1815. There is some indication that she was a widow when she married George Phillips and was a Walton by birth. She lived for the last forty years of her life on a tenement lot near Trumbauersville, conveyed to her by her son Joseph Phillips in 1776, where she followed the vocation of a tailoress. Her will dated 8 mo. 10, 1806, devised her estate to her daughter Ann Phillips for life then to Samuel Walton, son of her nephew, Moses Walton.

6. DIANA PHILLIPS² (George¹), daughter of George and Patience (Griffith) Phillips, born in Philadelphia County 5 mo. 20, 1709, died in Milford Township 3 mo., 1785. She married, 3 mo. 31, 1729, at First Presbyterian Church, Philadelphia, Henry Bryan of Chester County, and seems to have lived in that county during her married life, returning to Milford after she became a widow. Her will dated 3 mo. 16, 1783, proved 3 mo. 15, 1785, names her nephew Joseph Phillips and William Clark as executors. It gives legacies to her grandson William Bryan, then a minor, son of John Bryan, late of Chester County, and to her grandchildren John and Mary Bryan, children of Henry Bryan, late of New York deceased. We have no information in reference to her family except what is stated in the above mentioned will.
